

Research Findings: Modern Ethiopia (1855–1974)

Unification and Modernization (1855–1889)

- Emperor Tewodros II (1855–1868):
  - Overview: Ended the Era of Princes, reunified Ethiopia, and initiated modernization.
  - Monuments: Maqdala fortress (his stronghold).
  - Government: Centralized administration, created a professional army, and attempted to reform the tax system.
- Emperor Yohannes IV (1872–1889):
  - Overview: Defended Ethiopia against Egyptian, Mahdist, and Italian threats.
  - Monuments: Yohannes IV Palace in Mekelle.
  - Government: Decentralized but unified under his suzerainty; emphasized religious Orthodoxy.

Expansion and Independence (1889–1930)

- Emperor Menelik II (1889–1913):
  - Overview: Defeated Italy at the Battle of Adwa (1896), expanded borders, and founded Addis Ababa.
  - Monuments: Menelik II Palace (Addis Ababa), St. George's Cathedral, Entoto Maryam Church.
  - Government: Established a modern cabinet, introduced the railway, telephone, and postal system.
- Empress Zewditu (1916–1930):
  - Overview: First female monarch of modern Ethiopia; conservative but oversaw early reforms by Ras Teferi (Haile Selassie).
  - Monuments: Continued development of Addis Ababa and religious sites.
  - Government: Dual rule with Ras Teferi as Regent.

The Era of Haile Selassie I (1930–1974)

- Emperor Haile Selassie I:
  - Overview: Central figure in 20th-century Ethiopia; led resistance against Italian occupation (1935–1941) and modernized the state.
  - Monuments: Jubilee Palace, Africa Hall (OAU headquarters), Holy Trinity Cathedral, National Museum of Ethiopia.
  - Government:
    - * Constitutions: 1931 and 1955 Constitutions (first written laws).
    - * Centralization: Abolished the gult system, created a modern bureaucracy and military.

- * Internationalism: Founded the OAU, joined the League of Nations and UN.
- End of Monarchy: Overthrown in 1974 by the Derg (military junta).